Tutoring Experience

For the past seven years, I've worked extensively with students on IB and A-Level English, guiding them through their coursework and helping them improve their critical thinking and essay writing abilities. I've successfully prepared students for exams while fostering a deeper appreciation for literature.

In addition to my work with IB and A-Level students, I've also tutored individuals preparing for IGCSE and AP English. Through personalised, one-on-one sessions, I've helped students achieve their academic goals by focusing on their unique strengths and areas for improvement.
