Tutoring Experience

With nearly two decades of teaching experience, I’ve worked extensively with IB, A-Level, and IGCSE students, providing in-depth knowledge and clear explanations in biology. My passion for the subject has helped students achieve remarkable results in their exams and pursue higher education in top institutions.

In addition to guiding students through exam preparations, I have supported many in mastering advanced biology topics, from genetics to ecology. My extensive experience working across different curriculums has equipped me with the skills to ensure students thrive in any academic setting.
